4. How we use your personal data

We use your personal data to identify you as a user of the Commitment2050 website. Use your email address to log in to the service. Commitment2050 gives you a link that you can use to create a secure password. In case you forget your password, you can reset it at the service. In case we need further information about your commitment, we will contact you via email. Only the site's admin knows your email address.

5. Data content of the user register

After you have registered to the service, the service will have your name and your organization's information. You may add your photo or the organisation's logo into your profile. You may choose whether you want to appear as a private person or as an organization, and the service will show your name according to this. To view and edit your profile, click 'profile' at the upper right-hand corner of the site.

6. Standard data sources

All your personal data and the data on the commitment are given by you. Other parties may share the commitment you have given.

7. Disclosure of data and transfer of data outside the EU/EEA

Your user data will not be transferred outside the service.

8. Principles for securing the register

Data recorded in the server

The data you enter is saved in a secure web server to which outsiders have no access. Data is not transferred to outsiders.

Manual data

We don't use manual data.
